RESULTS OF VIOLENCE.

A WARNING TO LABOUR.

LONDON, May 25.
Mr. J. Clynes presiding at the Congress of the National Union of General Workers at Aberdeen declared that the abandonment of political effort and resorts to violence would not merely dislocate the productive resources of the country, but would assuredly bring the whole people to the verge of starvation.

THE BOLSHIES.

WARSAW, May 25.
The Bolsheviki have despatched to the Dvina ten divisions collected from the Estonian, Lettish and Caucasian fronts. After their initial success the enemy was driven out of the lake region and have not succeeded in threatening Dvinsk. The Poles in the Kiev district are still holding the bridgeheads of the Dnieper.

The Times Teheran correspondent says General Champan Egerian, Governor-General of Gilan, interviewed Kozanoff, commander of the Bolshevik fleet at Enzeli, who declared his inability to give an answer regarding his intentions, but repeated the assurance that he entertained no hostile ambitions.

EMPIRE DAY IN LONDON.

LONDON, May 25.
Empire Day was celebrated in London on the most brilliant and hottest day of the year. Prince Albert took the salute at a parade organized by the Empire and Overseas Club and Patriotic Leagues at Hyde Park before thousands of spectators. The parade concluded with a flag party passing bearing the Dominions' flags. A feature of the decorations was an inscribed wreath of Indian flowers at the base of the Victoria Statue. Prince Henry won the tent-pegging at the Universities tournament at Olympia.

INTERESTING ARMS CASE.

CHIEF PREVENTIVE OFFICER'S POWER QUESTIONED.

At the Magistracy yesterday afternoon, before Mr. N. L. Smith, a Chinese was charged on remand with the unlawful possession of a Winchester rifle, two revolvers and 1,341 rounds of ammunition without a licence.

The defendant who was defended by Mr. Leo d'Almada pleaded "not guilty". Chief Preventive Officer Wildin prosecuted.

Evidence was entered into to the effect that at 11 a.m. on Saturday, the defendant engaged a sampan at Wing Lok Wharf to take him to the "China". Arrived alongside the ship, the defendant boarded it and returned with a basket and a parcel which he put on board the boat, and boarding it himself, gave instructions to return to shore. When the boat got back to the wharf, the defendant went ashore, leaving the basket and parcel in the boat, instructing the only person in the boat, a girl aged 13, to look after them until his return. Ignorant of the contents of the basket and parcel, the girl agreed to look after them for the defendant. At eight o'clock in the evening, two Revenue Officers boarded the boat, and after a short search discovered the contraband. They arrested the girl and another woman, who was described as her godmother. As the result of certain information received after the women's arrest, the Revenue Officers visited a house in Square Street and there arrested the defendant. An identification parade was then held, and he was identified by the girl as the man who had engaged her sampan. The identification parade was held in the presence of Chief Preventive Officer Wildin.

Mr. d'Almada (to Inspector Wildin): Under what assumed power did you parade the defendant for identification?—I did it as a right.

Mr. d'Almada: Do you know that you were assuming a power which only the C.S.F. has?

The Magistrate: No, no. Mr. d'Almada, I am inclined to doubt that.

IN SWELL SOCIETY.

A "levee" and ball is being given at Government House on June 3. Military officers invited are to wear summer dress. If they have it. If they haven't, they may wear khaki drill, but must be careful to have these other details right, namely,

sword belts without frogs
black patent leather shoes black socks
white shirt and white evening collar black bow.

A "levee" means a "getting up," so it is only right that they should be "got up" in the right way.

Personally, on that evening, dining at the Toto Sing, we shall wear duck unmentionables and a singlet, and be just as happy.

At Chien, in his cubicle, will wear a towel and a fan, and eat heartily, we hope.

SUMMARY COURT.

Judgment in favour of the plaintiff for $350 (to be paid in monthly instalments of $3) was entered by Mr. Justice Wood, the Probate Judge, in the Summary Court, yesterday afternoon, in the case in which Ali Mohamed, who was represented by Mr. Leo Longinotto, and Bhagat Singh, an Indian Constable in the Hongkong Police Force, for the recovery of two loans of $350 and $250 respectively.

Inspector Wildin: I held the identification parade with the desire of finding out the truth.

Replying to further questions by Counsel, the Inspector said he did not use violence towards the defendant before he made a confession admitting that the contraband was loaned to him. There was no chance of the girl communicating with her godmother at the identification parade.

At this stage, his Worship returned to the case until Friday afternoon.

MEXICAN REVOLUTION.

NEW YORK, May 25th.
A message from Mexico City states that Carranza has been injured. There has been no disorder. Several members of Carranza's entourage have been arrested aboard the funeral train to the capital and have been imprisoned, including Bonillas, ex-Ambassador to Washington. It is reported that the de facto Government of Mexico has sent an ultimatum to Villa demanding that he should decide by May 25th for peace or war with the new Government.

WASHINGTON, May 25th.
General Obregon has sent a message to President Wilson respecting Carranza's assassination.

PROHIBITION IN AMERICA.

ALBANY, May 25th.
The Governor of New York State has signed a bill legalizing the sale of beer with alcoholic content of 21 per cent.

DOWNWARD TREND OF PRICES.

NEW YORK, May 25th.
According to Professor Johnson, Dean of the School of Commerce, the present downward trend of prices is a genuine indication that the orgy of spending is diminishing. He is of opinion that the decline of prices will be continuous. The fact that Banks are behind the movement for lower prices is the best assurance that the downward course will continue. Careful independent surveys show that the production of the United States, despite the handicap of railway congestion, is steadily increasing, and labour is employing more skill and taking more pains in its work, so that the standard of the finished article is slowly improving.

AMERICAN RAILWAYS.

WASHINGTON, May 25th.
Mr. Shurley of the Railroad Administration reports a gross loss of 900,478,000 dollars on railroads under war-time Government control.

Mr. Howard Elliott, representing the Association of Railway Executives in his evidence before the Inter-State Commerce Commission, which is considering the increase of freight rates, stated that the average increase of 26.43 per cent. is necessary in order to raise 6 per cent. on capital investment, as contemplated by the Transportation Act.

Mr. Frederick Strauss, the New York banker, emphasized the importance of establishing a feeling of security in railroad stock and bonds in the minds of investors.

ATTACKING CONGESTION.

WASHINGTON, May 22nd.
Railroad operating officials have been instructed to attack first freight congestion by clearing a score or more of the important junction points. The plan contemplates the formation of Committees at thirty gateways to disentangle the mass of cars and expeditiously forward them, and instruct the supplemental commerce commissions regarding re-routing and equipment for pooling.

THE ALLIES AND CHINA.

LONDON, May 24.
Mr. Bland, in his article in the Times, emphasises that the main purpose of the Alliance was to protect and preserve the integrity and independence of China and maintain therein the principle of the open door. Any renewal of the Alliance, which fails to emphasise and safeguard this principle, and insist upon its equitable application, will be not only useless from the British point of view, but a certain source of trouble in the future.

A complete return to the status quo ante bellum in China is clearly impossible, but, as far as Great Britain is concerned, the fundamental object of the Alliance remains unchanged and it should be our definite aim to make it, when renewed, an effective instrument for the maintenance of those equal opportunities on which the future of British trade in China depends.

There can be no hope of permanently preserving the integrity and independence of China, unless immediate steps are taken to establish and maintain at Peking a Central Government with authority sufficient to enable it to collect adequate revenues from the provinces. This Central Government cannot be established by the Chinese themselves, without foreign intervention. In order to make its establishments and continued existence possible, the provincial armies of the Manchus must be finally disbanded, and the Manchus themselves replaced by Civil Governors directly responsible to Peking.

SMUGGLERS' HEADQUARTERS RAIDED.

BIG HAUL OF OPIUM AND ARMS.

Mr. C. F. Mason appeared before Mr. R. O. Hutchison, at the Magistrate's Court this morning, to defend three Chinese women who were charged with the unlawful possession, in a hut occupied by them at Capatsumun, of 663 tals of prepared non-Government opium valued at $7,956 and 4,997 tals of raw opium valued at $4,997. He applied for a remand saying that he had only that morning been retained for the defence, and he would like time to receive instructions. With regard to bail, he said that his clients were not wealthy people, and he did not think they would be able to raise the big sum, which the Police would undoubtedly ask for. Under the circumstances, he thought it would be useless to apply for bail. His Worship agreed and remanded the defendants in custody until 2.15 next Wednesday when the case will be heard.

The discovery of the opium by the Police was purely accidental, as they went on the island to search for arms and ammunition. Receiving information that a band of smugglers had made their headquarters on Capatsumun Island, Inspector Grant accompanied by Sergeants Lane and Dick, and a number of Chinese constables went by launch to raid the place early in the morning of Tuesday. After searching for some hours, the party discovered a small hut surrounded by a mass of trees in a very isolated and almost inaccessible spot. Expecting armed resistance, Inspector Grant ordered the party to produce their revolvers, and cautiously, the machine closed in on the hut. On reaching the door, a rush was made, the Police thinking to take the smugglers by surprise. The surprise, however, was theirs, for there was no one in the hut excepting three harmless looking women. They took no chances however, and quickly handcuffed them. A systematic search of the hut followed, and buried beneath the floor of the hut, were discovered 663 tals of prepared opium and 4,997 tals of raw opium. Convinced that there was something in the information they had received that a large quantity of arms and ammunition was concealed on the island, the party searched the vicinity, and after a while their efforts were rewarded by the discovery of another hut. Precaution was taken against resistance, but when the raiders gained admittance to the hut it was found to be empty, although it showed signs of having been recently occupied. Placing several men on guard outside the hut as a precaution against their being taken by surprise by the smugglers should they return, the rest of the party searched the interior of the hut. Under the mattress of a bed, a fully loaded revolver was brought to light. It is surmised that this weapon was left there by a lookout who decamped when he heard the approach of the Police. Despite the thoroughness of the search which followed, for a long time the searchers found nothing suspicious. Then they came across an old brick kiln in the kitchen. The kiln was demolished in a very short time, and under it was discovered a deep hole which it was allowed one man to squeeze through at a time. This hole was probed with sticks, but nothing was brought to light. Believing that there was a sort of tunnel underground, Inspector Grant ordered several of his men to enter the hole. This was done, and soon one of them returned with a grass bag filled with revolvers and ammunition. Several other bags were brought up a little later. After all the contents of the hole had been hauled out, the party made a final search of the interior of the hut, and then sounded the ground on the outside for possible manholes. While they were thus engaged, one of the party noticed a woman attempting to escape up the hillside. Chase was given, and she was captured, and handcuffed with the others. Satisfied that the place was thoroughly searched, and that there was no possibility of more contraband being found, Inspector Grant ordered the party to return to the launch, dragging their "find" with them.

The contraband weighed over a ton and a half and on arrival in Hongkong, it took thirty-two coolies to remove it to the Central Police Station. All the revolvers and ammunition were brand new. There were no fewer than 151 revolvers and 83,300 rounds of ammunition in the various grass bags. The whole seizure, including the opium, is valued at $20,000.

The smugglers are believed to be financed by a wealthy syndicate who must have made millions of dollars out of the contraband in recent years. The headquarters are believed to be an old established one.

BOWEL COMPLAINT IN CHILDREN.

DURING the summer months children are subject to disorders of the bowels and should receive the most careful attention. As soon as any unusual looseness of the bowels is noticed Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy should be given. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

CIVIL SERVICE SALARIES.

THE CADET SERVICE.

The following circular has been issued.

The classification system is abolished, and the following incremental scale of salary is substituted therefor—

The commencing salary is $350. A Cadet draws $375 on passing his second examination (in Chinese and English) and $400 on passing his final examination. His salary thereafter rises by two annual increments of $25 and by fifteen annual increments of $50, to $1,500.

When a Cadet's salary reaches $600, and again when it reaches $900, there is a strict efficiency bar, and a Cadet will not in either case be permitted to draw further increments unless his service is thoroughly satisfactory in every respect. The appointments of Treasurer, Secretary for Chinese Affairs, Director of Education, Captain Superintendent of Police, and First Magistrate are placed separately in a senior class, the salary in each case being at the rate of £1,250 rising by annual increments of £50 to £1,500.

A Cadet who acts in a post in the senior class or in the post of Crown Solicitor will receive additional salary at the rate of £50 or £100 a year, according as his substantive salary exceeds or does not exceed £900 a year. A Cadet whose salary does not exceed £900 a year will receive additional salary at the rate of £50 a year while he performs the duties of Superintendent of Imports and Exports, District Officer, Registrar of the Supreme Court, Head of the Sanitary Department, or Postmaster-General.

The house allowance, which is now granted to a Cadet who has not received a Class III appointment, is abolished. A Cadet who is studying Chinese will be granted free quarters in the British Yamen at Canton; or, if he is permitted to reside elsewhere, he will receive such rent allowance as the Government may in each case prescribe.

Heads of Departments should report any allowance or special payment which is now attached to any Cadet post, and they should make recommendations as to its continuance.

PROOF AGAINST DISEASE.

GERM-RESISTING MAN.

MIRACLE OF UNCOOKED FRUIT.

Mr. William Aird, the man who could not get killed, is germ-proof, and a vegetarian, gave a dinner recently after which he gave some details of his extraordinary career. He is proof against disease, he says, because of his vegetarianism. He does not eat cooked foods. The dinner party was held at the Palm Saloon of Messrs. Shearn's in Tottenham Court-road and the menu was headed "The Food of the Future." The diners were invited to eat: Chopped nuts, lettuce, mustard and cress, grated raw carrots and beetroot, watercress, flavoured with lemon juice. One elderly gentleman of benevolent aspect openly rebelled against the diet. He rose from the table, collected his hat and coat from the rack, and with a stern and rather hurt expression left the rest of the company contentedly—or otherwise—nibbling.

The germ-proof man belongs to Sompting, Sussex. He believes in eating only natural non-fired foods. He is a healthy, normal looking man with nothing of the typical crank about him. He is, of course, a teetotaler and has eaten only uncooked fruits and vegetables for years. He says it makes you go on feeling better until you never feel anything else better. Also it makes you impervious to ordinary diseases. He has subjected himself to drastic experiments at Guy's where every kind of germ that people usually fight shy of was introduced to him—without effect. He couldn't be killed. And he is quite ready, he says, to undergo the same experiments again. That disease is a curative process, an effort of the body to get well, is one of his tenets; and another is that every disease has its own set of habits. Rheumatism can be traced to meat eating and tea drinking. He has cured thousands of ill people by diet.

At Guy's, where he was carefully watched the whole time, he established a stationary weight on 15 lbs. of fruit per day. One of the proofs, he holds, that ordinary food does not create energy, is merely stimulates, was the fact that during this period he ran up and down stairs at the hospital for six and a quarter hours at a stretch, equal to climbing 6,600 feet. Orthodox food merely stimulates one to use up available energy more quickly. The uncooked fruit and vegetable diet he advocates does not give energy, and does not take away. Mrs. Aird is enthusiastic on the subject of non-fired foods. "We never have anything else in my house," she told a Globe representative. "Consequently there is very little work to do; and it is always very much cleaner and fresher than other people's houses because there is no smell of cooking."

RECORD HAUL OF OPIUM.

11,952 TALS FOUND ON JAPANESE FISHING BOAT.

What is considered the biggest haul of prepared non-Government opium ever made by the Preventive Department, beating by thousands of tals the recent seizure made on the s.s. "Empress of Japan," then considered a record, was made by Chief Preventive Officer Wildin and some of his assistants on Tuesday afternoon. Acting on information received, Mr. Wildin and a party of European and Chinese Revenue Officers boarded a launch and went out to search for a Japanese motor fishing boat, which, according to the informant, was due from Amoy with a large quantity of contraband on board. After several hours of tedious and fruitless search, the fishing boat was sighted off Futunum Pass, in British waters. The launch overhauled the boat, and the party boarded it. A systematic search of the vessel was then instituted, and in the hold, 11,952 tals of non-Government opium valued at $120,000, were found. In spite of the fact that the vessel was registered as a fishing boat, it had no other cargo on board but the opium, which it is believed was to be smuggled into Hongkong. The crew of ten—six Japanese and four Chinese—were placed under arrest and the vessel towed into port where it was anchored and the prisoners and contraband brought ashore. The name of the vessel is the "Keeyue Maru." This morning the ten arrested members of the crew, including a small Chinese boy who was described as the fireman, were brought before Mr. R. O. Hutchison and formally charged. Mr. Wildin said he was not yet prepared to go on with the case, and asked for a couple of days' remand. Replying to his Worship, Mr. Wildin said he thought the defendants would not be able to put up the bail he was going to ask, and therefore he thought it was better to remand them in custody. His Worship inquired if there was any one of the defendants against whom Mr. Wildin would not press the charge, and the latter said that with the exception of the small boy, he intended to press the charge against all the defendants.

His Worship: Do you want to withdraw against him now?—No, your Worship, I would prefer that he be remanded with the others.

The case was remanded until Monday morning.

SAILING OF THE "AFRICA MARU."

Passenger bookings have not been made for Osaka Shosen Kaisha steamers in Hongkong, as a rule heretofore, because all the vessels of that company have been fully booked upon their arrival from Japan. With the decline of travel which may be expected as movements of passengers cease being so extensive as has been the case in the past, booking from this port may soon be recommended. The s.s. "Africa Maru" is scheduled to sail to-day for Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma, via Japan ports. She is a vessel of 9,489 tons and is commanded by Captain Yamamoto.

NOTICE.

THE Management of the "China Mail" desires to inform the public that its tariff for advertisements received on and after this date will be increased by 20 per cent.

This increase is rendered imperative by the constantly growing cost of production, the price of paper alone having advanced by 700 per cent during the past five years.

In order to meet these conditions newspapers and magazines all over the world have been obliged to raise their subscription and advertising rates—in some cases by as much as 100 per cent—and, at the same time, to curtail the size and number of pages. For the present, however, it has been decided, in the interests of the public generally and of advertisers in particular, to leave the price of the "China Mail" unchanged.

Hongkong, May 17, 1920.

TO SECRETARIES OF CLUBS AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS.

AS from to-day, all preliminary notices of forthcoming meetings, lectures and entertainments, sent for insertion in the news columns of the "China Mail" will be charged for at the rate of $1. each, providing they do not occupy more than four lines. If this space is exceeded they will be placed in the advertising columns at the prevailing rates.

Hongkong, May 17, 1920.

ROYAL HONGKONG GOLF CLUB.

Beware of bogus imitations. No Tansan is genuine unless the label bears the name of

J. CLIFFORD-WILKINSON.

Univalled as a drink. Mixes well with Wines, Spirits of Milk.

Tansan raises the spirits and excites sanguine anticipation, even as a flagon of wine exhilarated the monks of old.

For the good old fear of orders grey

Would have waived the flagon of wine away

And consoled himself as any man can

With bubbling sparkling cool Tansan.

Tansan can be obtained at all first class Hotels, Bars and Clubs in the Far East.

"Keepkool" Underwear

FOR MEN.

THE NEW IDEA IN SUMMER UNDERWEAR.

"The Only Elastic Ribbed Porous Underwear."

WITH the advance of civilization the question of dress ever becomes a matter of greater importance. Particularly in tropical climates any article of dress that tends to mitigate the suffering caused by extreme heat is sure to find a cordial reception.

Discriminating people everywhere have been educated to know that underwear is the article of apparel that really requires the greatest care in its selection. The ideal underwear for hot weather must be light in weight, durable, absorbent and elastic. For these reasons the porous principle in underwear is the solution of the hot-weather problem. The pores in the fabric are in reality little cells that permit the air to circulate between the outer clothing and the skin. These little chambers allow the heat from the body to evaporate before it has a chance to condense and form perspiration, thus keeping the body dry and cool.

Underwear however, must be more than porous to be comfortable; it must be elastic. Elasticity is of prime importance as it allows the garment to give full play to the movements of the body and prevents it from chafing and binding. Keepkool underwear is the only brand that fulfils all of these necessary conditions. It is porous for coolness, elastic for comfort, lock stitched for durability, and absorbent for health. No other brand selling at popular prices contains all of these necessary features.

IN SOVIET RUSSIA.

PROGRESS MADE IN EDUCATION.

[Mr. Fusc, the Mainichi's correspondent in Moscow, has sent an interesting telegram on progress in Russia, which is given by the Japan Chronicle.]

Moscow, May 2.
On May 1st I interviewed Mr. Lunatcharsky, the People's Commissary for Education. He is one of the most popular of the people's commissaries and is known as the school reformer, the creator of the free school and out-of-school education and proletarian culture in Soviet Russia. On the walls of many of the factories and at schools and institutions, I saw his portrait side by side with that of Mr. Lenin.

Mr. Lunatcharsky said: "In the field of school reform we have introduced the idea of a unique labour school where children, independently of origin and the public status of their parents, join one and the same school. The school field has been considerably widened. At present we have 73,000 schools, 9,000 more than before the revolution. We have five and a half million children of school age, of whom one-third only attend these schools. After a few years we shall be able to provide schools for all children. Teaching is free of charge. Besides this children are fed and clothed. We supply daily in the schools three million dinners. For the past year we have supplied the children with nine million pairs of boots and eighteen million aschins [fourteen million yards] of clothing. We have introduced the American system of manual labour methods. We teach the young children first of all self-management of the school, like cleaning, repairing, gardening, etc., while children over 12 are taught on the spot actual work in factories and institutions so that in the end they receive a wide polytechnic education. We have begun a decisive battle against illiteracy among adults. We have granted for this purpose four thousand million roubles. Before the Revolution illiteracy reached 90 per cent. We have fought for two years with this inheritance of the Tsar regime by the most resolute means and with military strictness. At present the Red Army has only 45 per cent. of illiterates against 85 in the Tsar's army. After four months Petrograd will not have a single illiterate person. We have opened 12,000 libraries and 7,000 People's Homes, for which the landlords' manor houses have been mostly used."

"In the field of art we observe the principle of preservation of everything valuable from among the ancient treasures, and at the same time we bend all our efforts towards the development of proletarian culture. The museums have been considerably enriched. Many new music and art schools and theatres have been opened, which have been made accessible to all. We are making wide use of cinemas for demonstration and educational purposes."

"During the interview Mr. Lunatcharsky's son came in and kissed his father on the cheek and someone brought him his dinner—some kasha. His secretary reported that some meeting was waiting for him and that his motor-car was ready. At the same time a telephone rang. Thus the People's Commissary for Education is simultaneously busy with many affairs and is surrounded by a simple and plain atmosphere wherein he works without rest on the great cause of the education of the hundred million people of Soviet Russia. From the beginning of last year, at Mr. Lenin's initiative, the so-called labour Saturdays have been organised all over Russia. Every Saturday, instead of a half-day's rest, collective labour of a mass character is being accomplished consisting of communal tasks of public significance, such as the construction, repair or clearing of railways, bridges, schools, hospitals or people's palaces. This year it was resolved to transform the May Day celebrations into an All-Russian Labour Saturday."

The whole of Moscow was afoot from early in the morning. Workmen, soldiers and employees of institutions, forming themselves into groups, began their day's labour with flags flying and the singing of the Internationale. I joined a group of employees of the Foreign Affairs Commissariat and travelled to one of the suburban stations, where we worked with shovels at the repair of the permanent way, under the control of the railway workers. After our task was over, bread coupons were distributed among the participants, but as my part of the work was unsatisfactory, I could not get any bread. This shows the strictness with which the Bolshevik motto, "He who does not work shall not eat," is carried out."

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF.

If you want a clear head and good digestion you must not let your bowels become clogged with poisonous waste from the body, as is always the case when you become constipated. Proper food, an abundance of water and plenty of outdoor exercise should keep your bowels regular. When that fails you should take Chamberlain's Tablets. They cause a gentle movement of the bowels and are easy and pleasant to take. For sale by all Chemists and Dispensaries.

A "DIVORCE COURT" NOVEL.

THE REAL THING.

In his new novel ("A Remedy Against Sin," Hutchinson, 7s. 6d. net), Mr. W. B. Maxwell succeeds in conveying the atmosphere of a court of law, a feat often attempted by novelists since the classic case of Bardell v. Pickwick.

This time it is the divorce court. "Its general aspect," writes Mr. Maxwell, "reminded me of a library, or perhaps the meeting place of some new religion, with its book-cases, wood-carving, desks, and pulpit-like enclosures." In a later passage Mr. Maxwell shows that he has got the very essence of the spirit which surrounds every big trial. Those who have been present at many know that he has succeeded.

The note is struck in the matter of fact, commonplace wording:

The progress was very slow. It seemed to Claire that all conspired to make it slow. Nothing was ever taken for granted; the most obvious things had to be inquired into. Moreover, everything that anybody wanted, such as a date, a letter, a book, was always missing; and in the hunt and the tumbling and rummaging of papers the seeds were being sown for rich harvests of future delays. Everybody, too, said things three or four times instead of once. Often the witness could not hear counsel's questions, counsel could not hear the witness's answer, and the judge could not hear either. Also difficulty was occasioned by counsel framing questions in such a manner that when witnesses heard them best they understood them least. How could it be otherwise than slow?

But those who frequent law courts soon learn that there is meaning behind these drawn-out methods. Claire, Mr. Maxwell's heroine, who was present in the court on a cross-petition against a cad of a husband, learnt this too. Before long she felt respect, if not admiration, for the laborious, painstaking manner of the process by which the facts were searched and sifted out. It was the grinding of a mill that would pass nothing uncrushed. Ignorant as she was, she seemed to know that the judge was competent, acute, and watchful. She understood several times when he pointed out the logical drift of things, and believed that Sir James's [her counsel] profuse thanks for his assistance were genuine. Their slowness began to strengthen her confidence. It made them the more certain to establish the truth. She thought, "Great is the truth; and here, at least, it shall prevail."

So she left the court the first day with a satisfied feeling that everything had gone well. So many litigants with justice on their side have done the same. But they do not realise the deadly nature of half-truths as twisted and turned by clever counsel, nor the effect of these on a divorce-court jury, which does not as a rule understand knight-errantry. The cross-examination of Claire is done in a masterly fashion. It is the real thing. Mr. Maxwell has done nothing better. C.B.
